Future developments

At BMS Well-being, we aim to build upon our successful track record of improving the lives of vulnerable adults in Manchester facing mental health and well-being challenges. Our wellbeing workshops and new Reset It Programme will provide secure, nurturing environments where participants can acquire effective coping strategies, build resilience, and learn to support others in their community.

Our previous series of workshops, completed in August 2024, demonstrated significant impact across five venues:

- Altrincham Hub: 17 attendees
- Sale West Community Centre: 7 attendees
- St Johns Church Resource Centre: 64 attendees
- St Marys Magdalene Church: 25 attendees
- The Resonance Centre: 15 attendees

With a total of 128 participants (exceeding our target of 60), we've proven the community's need and enthusiasm for these workshops.

Building on this success, we propose to continue running our wellbeing workshops across venues in East Manchester & Trafford over the next 12 months. Each 90-minute workshop will accommodate up to 10 participants, covering topics such as Confidence, 5 Ways to Wellbeing, and Stress Management.

Our Wellbeing Workshops programme is aimed further at:

1. Bringing people together to build stronger relationships in and across communities: Our workshops create a supportive environment where participants can connect, share experiences, and build lasting relationships.
2. Helping more people reach their potential by supporting them at the earliest possible stage: We provide valuable tools and resources that empower participants to improve their mental health early in their journey, unlocking their full potential.
3. Supporting people facing more demands and challenges due to the cost-of-living crisis: Our workshops are accessible to those who cannot afford private mental health support, addressing the needs of approximately 620,000 people living in poverty in Greater Manchester

By focusing on these priorities and building upon our proven success, we aim to create a more resilient, supportive community that benefits everyone, especially those most vulnerable to mental health challenges.
